

December 2009 Show and Tell

Marianne Meixell made a quilt she calls 4 Seasons. She started this quilt four years ago at a retreat in Washington state and it's finally finished! Marianne had Margaret Erickson do the quilting.

Marianne also shared her quilt called Bull's Eye. She made this quilt for her son, David, who is captain of the high powered rifle team at the Naval Academy. It will be David's Christmas present. Margaret Erickson did the quilting on this quilt as well.

Betty Fuentes shared this French Braid table runner she made.

Betty also made this wonderful tote bag from a jelly roll.

Betty also made this French Braid quilt which was quilted by Dee Hill. Apparently Betty has been very busy lately!

Ann Elkjer made this wonderful quilt named Samauri Square from a kit purchased at our spring show. The black and white fabric was from a jelly roll. All blocks are the same, just the colors are arranged differently. The kit was supposed to be throw size but is large enough to top a twin bed. This is a great example of what you can make with your black and white strips. This quilt will be Ann's auction donation quilt!

Marjory Saklou made this quilt she named Bow Tie. Marjory says this is the second block she ever made. She started this quilt sometime around 1992 and finished it in 2009. Brenda Booth is the quilter.
