

June 2010 Show and Tell

Lish Croes made this quilt she calls Bali-Hai from the Susanne McNeill workshop.

Jerri Dudley made this quilt she calls My Groomer for her dog's groomer. They take great care of Jerri's 103 pound dog. Jerri found the panel at the International Quilt Show.

Janet Turini made this Lone Star at the Jan Krentz workshop. It was great fun and she couldn't wait to put the star together. It isn't finished yet, but she just had to show us what she's got done so far.

Faye McKinzie made this quilt she calls Sunshine & Moonlight from her Bee's block swap. This quilt is a gift for her daughter.

Margie Tankersley made this quilt she calls Caleigh's Memory Quilt from T-shirts for her granddaughter's graduation.

Bidwell Drake made this quilt she calls Autumn – The Leaves are Flying! The technique is a tri-axial weaving of dupion silk and commercial cottons. The quilting is done from the back side of the quilt with pearl cotton thread in the bobbin.
